540,000 Can Vote In Alberta

Over 500,000 voters will be eligible to cast ballots in the August 5 provincial general election, election officials in Edmonton estimated last week. Officials said that it was likely only about 340,000 of the 540,000 actually eligible to vote would do so.

In the last provincial election in 1948 there were 294,000 votes cast by the 490,000 eligible voters.

Garden Club Plan Chinese Garden Party

CROSSFIELD — The Happy Gang Garden Club are planning a "Big Day" for Crossfielders, to take place (weather permitting) on the lovely spacious lawn of Mr. Will Lauts. It is to be a gala affair—a Chinese tea, at which the girls will be garbed in Chinese costume. In fact, it will be a Chinese Garden Party. Please mark your calendar for this novel event, Aug. 25 (Monday). The annual Garden tour will be Aug. 4.

The energetic club, in spite of its mischievous name, felt very blue recently when they found, to their consternation, that some of their 14 precious shrubs had been deliberately yanked up by the roots and thrown away. These shrubs were hard to obtain and were planted with loving care. It would be appreciated, should grown-ups view this vandalism, to please report it to town authorities, where it will be dealt with properly. The Club members have spent many precious hours weeding and caring for the United Church property, where they had planted the shrubs and flowers, and naturally feel this intrusion keenly.

Mrs. Green, grandmother, is to be thanked for her assistance with hoeing around the property last Friday, with the leader Mrs. Frank Laut and her girls. Mrs. Laut, also expressed her gratitude, on behalf of the club, to Mrs. Mabel Lee who spent hours at the last meeting, instructing the girls in the fine arts and habits of China, which will be a great incentive for their Chinese Lawn Social on Aug. 26.

The Man and His Program

If there ever was an election where the voter should seriously consider the issues at stake, here it is. Alberta, 1952, has reached the crossroads on many items of real importance.

If Social Credit spokesman Rev. Hansell can be taken at his own word, the present government has been in power too long in Alberta, because he says that 17 years is too long for one government to remain in power. But that is not an election issue any more than the promise of $25.00 per month is, after 17 years!

Regardless of what Rev. Hansell says, 17 years is not too long for a party to remain in power as long as it continues to do the will of the people.

The people will have to decide whether this government, in exporting natural gas, is acting in the best interests of the province. The farmers of Alberta should make it known, via the ballot, if they are content not to have rural electrification when a little assistance from the government could rapidly extend the power lines. Are Alberta farmers satisfied to see millions reaped from their lands in oil profits and not share in these profits? Are the people satisfied with the condition of Alberta roads? Is the Alberta Government Telephone system keeping abreast of the times and giving adequate service? Is the taxpayer satisfied that the government is doing all it can to assist the poorer municipalities that need assistance?

These are some of the issues which we believe affect the Alberta farmer, the most important man in the province. Now, collectively, it is his business to engage a hired man who will represent him in the legislature in Edmonton during the next four or five years.

~~We do not intend to tell you what party you should support in this election. We suggest that it makes sound sense to carefully study the programs of all parties and all candidates. Then select the program that is going to serve your interests best, and if that program is supported by a trustworthy, competent candidate, vote for him.~~

Your hired man in the legislature is of use to you as long as he does what you want him to do. It would be a good thing if, on August 5th, every elector forgot about party politics and voted for the best man with the best program. You wouldn't engage a hired hand to assist you in farm work simply because he belonged to a certain party or a certain church or had a certain nationality. You would hire him for his ability to know what you wanted done and the added ability to do it.

Likewise, on August 5th vote for the MAN who is willing and able to do what YOU want done for you in the Alberta legislature.

Making New Men

This is a very old frontier but it is ever new. It is always good news to know that God can and does make men new. There are those who assert that the leopard cannot change his spots and man's nature cannot be changed. This should be re-worded to suit the first proposition and should read "man cannot change his nature." This is true but God can and does transform human nature through His Son Jesus Christ.

Without spirit-filled, God-redeemed men there is little or no hope of salvation for man or society. We live in a dynamic universe and the fact that Christ died and rose again is the symbol and the proof that we can die to self and rise to God.

The Bible Today:

Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty; for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all. (I. Chron. 29:11).

Measuring Distances

On The Moon

The Dearborn Observatory, at Edison, Illinois, has been used by Northwestern University astronomers to check on the value of refraction by the earth's atmosphere. The astronomers confirm the fact that the atmosphere acts like a lens, bending incoming rays of light downward.

Every astronomical body, including the sun, moon and stars, are used in navigation and, therefore, appear somewhat higher in the sky than they actually are. When the sun or moon appears on the horizon, it is actually below the horizon.

Because the moon carries on its surface the most accurately known yardsticks, the astronomers measured distances between lunar mountains, craters and other points. These distances were measured by telescopes to an accuracy estimated to be about 300 feet on the surface of the moon.

In general, the study by the astronomers confirms the theoretical refraction tables long established and used by navigators, both military and civilian. One of the astronomers, however, says that the tables of correction for temperature, pressure and possibly the humidity of the atmosphere need revision and it is planned to carry on another study of this kind in the near future. The study just completed is nevertheless a scientific milestone and the measurements taken on the moon may some day prove to be useful to that adventurer who pilots his rocket craft to the moon in search of adventure and a new world.

Wonder Drugs

It is probably correct to say that medical science has made greater strides in the development of new drugs in the past two decades than in the entire history of medicine. New wonder drugs are now used not only to relieve pain and distress but also to remove the causes of disease.

The history of the wonder drugs began back in 1932 with the discovery of the sulpha drugs. Now the list of wonder drugs include in addition to the sulphas, penicillin, streptomycin, aureomycin, chloromycetin, terramycin, bacitracin, neomycin, atabrine, pentaquin, chloroquin, paludrin, and the hormone, cortisone.

One out of the every four persons stricken with pneumonia died 20 years ago, but today most victims are healed with penicillin in three or four days. With the development of isonicotinic acids hydrazide, some tuberculosis victims have literally been pulled back from the brink of the grave.

But even considering the great advances that medical science has made in the past few years, the challenge of finding drugs and serums that will combat other major disease, such as cancer, which kills about 200 thousand people each year, still faces those who are writing medical history. Wonder drugs for the treatment of the common cold, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries and infantile paralysis, and others are still needed.

Russian Propaganda

Russia has recently set up an iron and steel combine in Bulgaria. In announcing this, the Soviets point with pride how satellite industrialization is carried out.

It seems that workers from all over Bulgaria are to be mobilized and compulsorily transferred to the site to work for the joint Soviet-Bulgarian corporation in building this plant, which is to be known as the Lenin Combine.

In exploiting and enslaving this weak agrarian nation by imperialist expansion, Russian propaganda explains that "the brotherly Soviet Union helps the free workers of peace-loving nations strengthen their national sovereignty and economic independence."

Wanted: New Deal For Municipalities

By EVA K. COOK

In the present election campaign in Alberta, the demand for a new deal in government and municipal relations is definite.

Opposition members have stressed this idea through many sessions of parliament, but the premier's announcement in his nomination speech that, if elected, his government would take steps to "set the municipalities on their feet", was the first admission from the government of a need for re-adjustment.

The actual figures give a concise picture of the situation. Since 1944 provincial debt has decreased $53,000,000. During the same years municipal debt has advanced $74,000,000. This money has been used to meet growing costs of administration and capital expenditure in cities, towns and villages for improvements, particularly schools, hospitals, and utilities.

Provincial grants to local governments are based on tax schedules. The Municipal Assistance grant is dependent on revenue received from a tax levied on each gallon of gasoline purchased. This is money paid into the provincial government by the same people who are receiving it again in the form of municipal grants.

At the same time revenue from natural resources of the province is held by the government as surplus. Monies borrowed from such surplus funds are repaid by increased taxation. This is not a sharing of surplus income with the municipalities. It is the loaning to the people of Alberta of their own money. Income from natural resources is not made available directly to the ratepayers of the province.

The city of Edmonton has to provide homes, schools, streets, water, sewage and telephones for a rapidly increasing population. The only access of the civic administration to riches derived from natural resources is by borrowing. The same situation exists in communities all over the province.

A definite change in policy is urgent. Either local governments must have a share in surplus revenue, or the province must undertake a reasonable share of local operating expenses. A careful study should be made by representatives of governmental, civic and municipal authorities.

This is not a problem to be solved by provincial government alone, be it ever so well intentioned.

Voice of the People

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION — ROADS IN 1957

A letter in your "Voice of the People" by Henry Young is to the point and timely. No province gives the farmer the deal that Alberta does. Under the farm electrification scheme in use here the farmer pays some $1000 per farm to construct power lines to his farm. The farmer keeps up the lines by paying a service charge of $2.50 per month; turns them over to the Power Company's use without charge, free of interest, or rent, and yet pays for the juice the regular charge of $4.00 per month for 200 kwh. In other words, the farmer is subsidizing the Power Company to the extent of millions of dollars at the instigation of the government. Is it any wonder the Power Companies think the Alberta government is a "good" government — but the farmers are not so sure.

But this is not the only way in which the farmer is given the run-around by the government. For three years now they have been pressing for legislation which would authorize the formation of co-operative marketing boards to handle farm produce both within and outside the province. This has been authorized federally, and the farmers through their 54 affiliated bodies in the AFA, with a membership of 65,000 or more, requested their central agency, the AFA, to ask the government for the necessary legislation. The FUA, which alone has individual membership of 20,000, has also emphatically supported this request, yet the premier rejects the request on the ground that the MLAs do not think the farmers actually want it. There is no doubt that farm people favor in overwhelming numbers the enacting of marketing legislation which would give them the power to handle the marketing of their own produce.

This acknowledged ignorance of the farmers' desires, after years of resolutions from many organizations can only be attributed to rank indifference, or to the self-righteous feeling of superior wisdom which knows better than any farmer possibly could.

Only by the ballot can we impress upon the government that we are at all important or worthwhile.

FARMER.

Stony Plain, Alta.

So—we are to understand that five years from now Alberta is to have some roads we can travel on. What an absolute disgrace that during the past four years they've been purposely neglected to give cause for a good political promise. Recently we invited friends in the east to drive out and visit our home. A letter came back saying they would love to visit our province, but were advised not to drive as the roads in Alberta are very poor. The Social Credit Government has done a good job in so many ways, and I would like to support them again, but feel we must have a change.

Can't this Government see what damage they are doing not only to themselves, but to the people? Why can't some of the wealth be returned to the people in good roads? It is fine to say we have a lot of money and are paying the debts of the province, but we as a family want some fun while we live and want to get out and travel in this lovely province of ours.

Pay the debts a little slower if need be and start letting the people see some of the benefits of our great wealth. If this province ever goes to the left, we can blame none but the Social Credit Government. They are absolutely delinquent in meeting demands of the ordinary citizen.

Boyle, Alta. D.C.

GOOD OPPPOSITION

I believe the majority of people in the Province of Alberta will agree with me, when I write that the last session of the Alberta Government proved without a doubt that we need a good opposition in the house. If we are going to have a government that is better than that of Joe Stalin, where you have one dictator, then we need a good opposition.

I don't for one minute mean that the Social Credit Government is a communistic government, far from it, thank God, but our Alberta Government is too one-sided. "Voters should give this every consideration before casting their vote on Aug. 5th. Let's have a good strong opposition in the government of Alberta.

PRESERVER OF DEMOCRACY.

COOL MILK AND CREAM PROMPTLY

Farmers in this area that sell cream or whole milk are reminded of the fact that prompt cooling of these products is essential for the production of good quality cream and milk. Bacterial action in summer months can cause rapid deterioration or souring. Prompt cooling will slow down and almost stop action of bacteria. Cooling should be done immediately after milking if you are a milk shipper and right after separation if you ship your cream.

Harmful bacteria works fastest at temperatures ranging from body temperature down to 50 degrees F. The temperature of your water supply is generally around 40 degrees F. At this temperature milk and cream keep very well and quality is preserved. Cooling these products in water will maintain their quality and bring higher returns from their sale. Another reason why milk should not be allowed to stay in barns for any length of time after milking is because it picks up animal odors. Milk should, therefore, be removed quickly and cooled if sold as fluid milk or separated without delay and the cream cooled immediately after separation.

National Barley Contest

Again, this year as in the past the Barley Improvement Institute and the Brewing and Malting Industries of Canada are sponsoring a Malting Barley Contest. The contest is open to farmers in the malting barley areas such as this area. Only malting varieties (Montcalm and Olli for Alberta) will be acceptable and the contestant must produce one carload (at least 1,667 bushels). Two farmers may go together on a carload. Attractive prizes are awarded in these contests. Entries must be in on or before August 1 in the hands of Mr. A. M. Wilson, Field Crops Commissioner, Dept. of Agriculture, Edmonton. Entry forms can be received from this office upon request. Farmers eligible from this area are encouraged to enter.

Some Ornamental Trees Available

Have you prepared land for trees and have not submitted an application? If so, contact this office for an application immediately. The main types of trees distributed by the Federal and Provincial Governments are still such as caragana, poplar, maple, willow, elm, ash, spruce, and pine. These should and always will form the major part of our shelterbelts. However, the Provincial Government has a limited quantity of ornamental trees for general distribution from the Provincial Horticultural Station at Brooks. The list consists of the following: honeysuckle, Nanking cherry, Gennalian maple, mayday, flowering plum, red elderberry, black elderberry, Russian olive, Chinese hawthorn, Chinese bush cherry, chokecherry, native plum and apple seedlings. It is hoped that by adding a few of these to farm shelterbelts, their attractiveness would be increased. If you are interested in discussing this matter with me, I would be willing to do so. We wish to encourage farmers to plant more trees, to prepare their land now and not to forget to complete that application form this summer.

Liberal Candidate Opposes Cross In Hand Hills Provincial Riding

Re-election to the legislature of Dr W. W. Cross in the Hand Hills riding was prevented by last-minute naming of a Liberal candidate to contest the constituency in the Aug. 5 general election. Dr. Cross, minister of health and welfare in the Social Credit government, will be opposed by F. W. Slemp, district farmer.

Although Mr. Slemp's nomination came late in the election race, Liberal headquarters said he would conduct an "intensive" campaign throughout the riding.

It was reported he would concentrate on local issues which the Liberals contend have been ignored by the government, and on Dr. Cross' record as minister of health.

Several public meetings are to be held by both candidates, and each will tour the constituency, meeting with the voters and discussing the issues.

Dr. Cross' department has been the object of widespread criticism during the past few years. In 1948 a Royal Commission made several recommendations, including a suggestion that orphans under the department's care should not be sent to the United States.

At the last session of the legislature, Dr. Cross and Premier Manning said the government did not feel bound by the Royal Commission's recommendations, and would not implement any of the board's suggestions.

LETTERS TO LOUISA

$1 for EMBARRASSING
MOMENTS

Dear Louisa,

I met a boy several months ago whom I like very much and he seems to like me. He takes me to the shows and to supper and we always enjoy being with each other.

I thought he was seriously interested in me until a few evenings ago he told me that the girl he had always loved had married someone else recently. He also said that he would never love anyone else as he had loved her and that he was trying to forget her.

This was a shock to me and I do not know what I should do. Would it be better for me to stop dating him altogether or not? Do you think there is a chance that he will really forget this girl?

ELOISE.

Answer:

If you really like this boy a great deal, I think your best plan will be to keep on dating him but not to let him monopolize all of your time. Go with other young men but be as pleasant and attractive as you can be when you are with this particular one.

Believe it or not, most disappointed lovers do get over their lost loves although they never think that they will. Give him time and when he realizes that he may lose you, he may find that his affections have changed from his old love to a new one.

Good luck,

LOUISA.

Auditors Didn't Know

MIDLAND, (BUP) — Ontario government auditors were mighty suspicious of the $600 item for the upkeep of "Nancy" in Simcoe county books, Warden James Hart said today.

It was only after long, patiently detailed explanations that they were convinced "Nancy" is an old British warship in a park, he said

Walking into a theatre, and not being able to see anything for a few minutes, I finally found a seat and sat down. I thought someone had left a parcel on it, and I was just about to find out what I was sitting on when a man's voice behind me said: "Pardon me, Miss, but you're sitting on my knee". Was I ever embarrassed!

One day as we were in town, I ran out of money. Seeing a man with a jacket like my father, I ran and gave him a hard poke in the side and said, "Give me some money." As he did not look around I poked him again. A strange face turned around and said, "Lay off me, little boy." You can imagine my embarrassment. —S.M. Coolidge, Alberta.

ELECTION CAMPAIGN IN HIGH GEAR

All Parties Optimistic On Outcome

Optimism was the keynote in the camps of all provincial political parties this week following the nomination of 183 candidates for the 61 ridings at stake in the August 5 provincial general election.

Premier E. C. Manning, at the helm of Social Credit forces seeking a fifth consecutive term in office, was confident his government would be re-elected when the 540,000 eligible voters go to the polls.

In turn, Liberal leader Harper Prowse saw his chances of forming "fifty-fifty" C.C.F. leader, Elmer Roper, was making no election claims, but he appeared sure his party would make important gains in the legislature.

SPEAKERS ON TOUR

All parties turned their "big guns" loose in a series of campaign meetings throughout the province. Premier Manning and most cabinet ministers are traveling up and down the province whipping up support, while Prowse is conducting a whirlwind tour of vital points. The C.C.F. is bringing in national leader, M. J. Coldwell, while B.C. leader, Harold Winch arrived last week.

The outlook among political observers was for re-election of the government, but with its lop-sided majority in the legislature considerably reduced. As the campaign warmed up, considerable signs of dissatisfaction began to develop, with noticeable irritation among the electorate far more widespread than in the last campaign in 1948.

Wracked with internal dissension, the Social Credit party has appealed to the voters to spurn election bids of six independent Social Crediters. Referred to by one minister as "soreheads," the independents are expected to split the Social Credit vote to allow possible election of opposition candidates.

WANT MORE OPPOSITION

A bigger opposition has been the rallying call of the Liberal and C.C.F. parties. Liberal leader, Prowse, last week referred to the Manning administration as an "uncontrolled government running wild" due to lack of opposition.

Major issues in the campaign are the gas export question, and the handling of municipal financing by the government.

The Liberals and C.C.F. claim gas export will deprive Alberta of its chance for industrial development. The government contends gas export will have no effect on whether more industry will locate in Alberta.

The government has been most sensitive on the question of municipal-provincial relations. Opposition parties claim promises made by Social Credit to "get the municipalities back on their feet" is proof in itself that the government has mismanaged municipal affairs.

The Liberals and C.C.F. claim that the government has reduced the provincial debt at the expense of municipalities, whose debts have sky-rocketed in the past decade. Opposition candidates say the government is forcing higher GOING PLACES — A smiling Joan Penny typifies passenger reaction to the new short form inter-line ticket being introduced today by the Canadian National Railways. The new booklet ticket replaces the former unwieldy strip of coupons, like the seven-foot one draped around her neck, which has been in use over the past years for travel on two or more rail lines. The new ticket is compact; is easily read and refunds on unused portions are speeded because the ticket contains all pertinent information as to routing and fare paid.

Threaten Trial For S.C. Official Who 'Misused' Taxpayers' Money

A threat to put the minister of economic affairs, A. J. Hooke, on trial for 'misuse' of public funds, was made last week as the Alberta election campaign moved into the home stretch.

The charge was made by Liberal leader Harper Prowse, who said he would attempt to have the minister tried before the legislature and made to pay for alleged use of public funds for Social Credit campaign material.

The threat drew a reply from Attorney-General Lucien Maynard, who said Prowse's charge was "typical of the misrepresentation practiced by the Liberal people which the people of Alberta resent."

Mr. Prowse referred to a series of 14 pamphlets, a booklet entitled "The Alberta Story", and a movie of the same name which, he said, are being distributed through the publicity branch of the department of economic affairs.

"PROPAGANDA"

The Liberal leader said these publications are "nothing more or less than pure political propaganda." He accused the Social Credit administration of a "flagrant abuse of its rights and powers."

The movie alone cost $25,000.

Old-Time Resident Passes At 81 Years

CROSSFIELD — The grim reaper claimed another of Crossfield's old-time residents in the person of the late Joseph Abra, who passed away in a Calgary nursing home, on Saturday evening, July 26.

A former resident of Crossfield, where he farmed for thirty-five years, the late Mr. Abra was born in England at Belham. He spent the last few years in Calgary where he and Mrs. Abra resided at their home, 420-18 Ave. N.E.

Besides his wife Rachel, he is survived by a son, Hobart of Crossfield; a daughter, Mrs. W.

brothers and three sisters and a number of grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are with McInnis and Holloway.

5-Year-Old Child Passes Suddenly

CROSSFIELD — The district was deeply saddened on Saturday evening when the sudden death of Carol Elaine, 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bills of Crossfield, was reported. Carol was taken to hospital in Calgary and only spent a night there. Sympathy is extended to the bereaved family who are suffering from shock and sudden sorrow.

What Benefit Have YOU Received from Alberta Oil?

The Manning Government proclaims that Alberta is benefitting from huge oil revenues. If that is so, you, the taxpyaer-citizen of this province should have some personal benefit. But what good has the oil boom done for you?

OIL ROYALTIES: If you are like most farmers of Alberta, holding only surface rights you get a few measly dollars while the government and the oil companies reap millions! A Liberal administration will pay holders of surface rights a royalty of 2 1/2%.

HIGH TAXATION: The huge revenues reaped by the Provincial Government haven't reduced your taxes! While the government wallows in a $90,000,000.00 surplus fund your town and municipal taxes are higher than ever before!

IMPASSABLE ROADS: The Provincial Government continues to reap automobile and gasoline taxes, but steadily neglects all but a few miles of Provincial highways. With high taxes and high revenues you are still obliged to drive on many Provincial highways that are neglected and so badly rutted and rough that cars and trucks are worn out years before their time.

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION: With millions in excess revenues the Government tells you you can have electric power on your farm if you are prepared to pay $1,000.00 or more for installation. A Liberal government will speed electrification of Alberta farms with interest-free loans to large co-operatives and thus eliminate the individual financial burden.
